KOREAN WAR NATIONAL MUSEUM

no longer forgotten

The Korean War National Museum to be located in New York City

Announces the Launch of its National and International Campaign

The Korean War National Museum is a 501 (C) (3) nonprofit organization charged with the mission to educate future generations, honor the veterans, preserve the history and celebrate the legacy of the Korean War. This international and historic project will be a vibrant and constantly evolving tribute to the over 33,686 American service members, and 1 million Koreans who lost their lives in the Korean War. It will be a place for generations to learn and be inspired by an unparalleled example in history of what can be accomplished when freedom and democracy are given the opportunity to flourish.

The Korean War was one of the most successful foreign engagements of the United States and the United Nations. Service members from the United States, Republic of Korea (South Korea) and 20 United Nations countries came to the aid of the South Korean people, a people they did not know, and a place that had not been. Today, 59 years after the signing of the Armistice, the tremendous transformation, growth and vibrancy of the Republic of Korea is a direct testament to the sacrifices that were made by the brave and valiant men and women that came to its aid during the War, and demonstrated that "Freedom is not free."

Despite its success and legacy, the Korean War is still often referred to as the "forgotten war." The goal of this Museum is to ensure that the sacrifices, experiences, and legacy of the brave men and women who fought and are still defending the Republic of Korea, are appropriately honored and thanked.

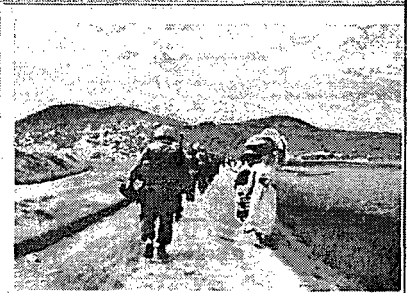

The mission is guided by a dedicated Board of Directors; chaired by Denis J. Healy, a Korean War Veteran and Chairman of Turtle Wax, Inc. A National Advisory Council chaired by Dr. Buzz Aldrin and supported by American and Korean educators, government, business and military leaders agree that now is the time to build this Museum. The location of the Museum will be New York City, one of the most dynamic, international and most traveled cities in the world. The special venue of New York City was chosen as the home for the Korean War National Museum to provide a fitting backdrop, and to pay tribute to a successful international political and military cooperation.

This Museum is left for our generation to build and is a debt we should pay these brave men and women. It is a unique opportunity for the United States, the Republic of Korea and its allied countries to once again join together and recognize what has been accomplished. By achieving this worthy mission, we will ensure that the sacrifices for democracy will never be forgotten, and reinforce for future generations that "Freedom is not Free."

Chair

INVITATION

The CSIS Office of the Korea Chair invites you to a Reverberation Group meeting:

The Politics and Science of Pyroprocessing

with

William H. Tobey
Senior Fellow, Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs
Harvard University

January 12, 2012
12:00PM – 1:30PM
5th Floor Conference Room
CSIS 1800 K. St. NW, Washington, DC 20006
Lunch will be served.

To RSVP for this meeting, please email KoreaChair@csis.org.

Please join us for the next meeting of the Reverberation Group with guest speaker William H. Tobey! Dr. Tobey will be discussing "The Politics and Science of Pyroprocessing." This project, sponsored by the Hewlett Foundation and CSIS, is designed to bring together a wide variety of experts from different disciplines to discuss how reverberation could affect bilateral negotiations in the U.S.-ROK alliance. The purpose of this project will be to analyze the potential for reverberation in various ongoing negotiations, ranging from the FTA to missile talks to DPRK food, but with particular attention to the U.S.-ROK civil nuclear negotiations: What political, economic, and security variables could impact the negotiations and create unintended or undesired outcomes for both parties.

William Tobey is a Senior Fellow with Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs at Harvard University. He has served as Deputy Administrator for Defense Nuclear Nonproliferation at the National Nuclear Security Administration. There, he managed the U.S. government's largest program to prevent nuclear proliferation and terrorism by detecting, securing, and disposing of dangerous nuclear material. Dr. Tobey also served on the National Security Council Staff in three administrations, in defense policy, arms control, and counter-proliferation positions. He has participated in international negotiations ranging from the START talks with the Soviet Union, to the Six Party Talks with North Korea.
